Dear Ms. Ross,

Per our phone conversation this morning, in reference to MUR 7549, I will explain why the Henry Martin for Congress Campaign may not be in compliance with FEC procedures. I am currently working with the CAD (Jessica Grainger) to rectify the situation. It seems that I have made mistakes by submitting individual reports, as opposed to a continuous report. CAD and I have talked several times to remedy this situation. By filing separate reports, I had no access to past reports that listed starting and ending amounts so I used incorrect numbers for my reports. I used bank account balances instead of report balances. My inexperience with the process is to blame for that. Since the FEC electronic reports are similar to Microsoft Access, the past reports are not able to be integrated together. So to attempt to save reinputting information from every report, CAD and I are working on a solution. If no solution is found then I will gladly re-enter all information into one report. CAD is extremely busy and communication between myself and CAD has been slow, but we are getting there. CAD has recommended that I start with the current report (30 days after election) to start anew. Henry Martin will be running again for Congress and we need to be in compliance. I will have limited access to email and telephone. After our return, I will respond to any communications made during my absence.

I await your response and thank you in advance, for your assistance and understanding.

Sincerely,
Mike Shryock
Treasurer
