Respondents.

COMPLAINT

This Complaint is filed pursuant to 52 U.S.C. § 30109(a)(1) against Martha McSally, McSally for Senate, Inc. (the “Committee”), and Paul Kilgore, in his official capacity as the Treasurer of the Committee (collectively the “McSally Respondents”). In short, the McSally Respondents have apparently violated the Act’s reporting requirements by failing to disclose the employer and occupation of at least 627 contributors on the Committee’s most recent quarterly campaign finance report (the “FEC Report”).

I. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Martha McSally is a United States Senator from Arizona. McSally was an unsuccessful candidate for Senate in 2018, but was appointed to the Senate in December 2018 when the late Senator John McCain passed away. McSally is currently seeking election in a special election that will determine who will serve the remaining two years of Senator McCain’s term. McSally for Senate Inc. is McSally’s principal campaign committee.

Perhaps as part of an effort to conceal the Senator McSally’s sources of support, when McSally for Senate filed its October quarterly report, the McSally Respondents failed to report the employer and occupation information for at least 627 contributors. These 627 individuals contributed over 1,000 times<sup>1</sup> and collectively contributed over $284,000 worth of contributions to the Committee during the third quarter of 2019.

This is not the first time Senator McSally has deprived the people of Arizona of crucial information about her donors. In 2018, the Commission approved five audit findings related to McSally's 2014 congressional campaign, including that the committee failed to report the employer and occupation information for 1,266 contributions.<sup>2</sup>

II. LEGAL BACKGROUND AND ANALYSIS

The Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (the "Act"), as amended, requires candidates, treasurers, and their committees to publicly report the identity of each contributor who contributes more than $200<sup>3</sup> in the aggregate per election cycle.<sup>4</sup> In relevant part, such identification must include the contributor's "employer" and "occupation."<sup>5</sup> A committee's treasurer is required to use "best efforts" to ensure that the required information is collected in reported.<sup>6</sup> Given the unusually high rate of noncompliance, Respondents appear to have failed to meet this standard of care.

III. CONCLUSION

As described above, the McSally Respondents have repeatedly and consistency failed to disclose required information about its donors. The Commission should promptly investigate this matter to determine if Respondents are, in fact, using best efforts to collect and report the required information to the Commission and the public.
